Their 'royal highnesses' let it all hang out for Cosmo

▲ Cosmopolitan's naked princes

Cosmopolitan magazine has something of a scoop to celebrate its 40th birthday issue - a saucy centrefold featuring "naked" pictures of "Prince William" and "Prince Harry", reports the Daily Star. But, hang on a minute, it's not Harry and William at all! They're comedy lookalikes courtesy of snapper Alison Jackson. Thank goodness for that. "To celebrate its birthday, Cosmopolitan, the magazine for smart young women, has given its readers the ultimate birthday present - naked Prince William and Harry lookalikes," says a spokesman. Look at the size of those polo mallets.
