MEGHAN Markle and Prince Harry have been pictured doing pre-natal yoga and rulling out calling their child “Kate” or “Thomas”.

But all is not as it seems, as the incredible collection of images are part of a spoof series by photographer Alison Jackson.

Alison’s latest series imagines how the famous royal couple is preparing for the birth of their first child behind closed doors – and shows them as you’ve never seen them before.

Although Meghan and Prince Harry have kept many details private about the pregnancy, the spoof gallery shows lookalikes picking out baby clothes and measuring the royal bump.
